SOONERS EXPECT TERRIFIC FIGHT

But Their Famous Machine Will Be Ready for Missouri Saturday, 11:00 Old
Gates Coming

Norman, Okla., Oct. 25.—(SSpecial)—The Oklahoma Sooners were defeated by Henry Kendall 36 to 6. They were defeated by the terrible Texas Longhorns 21 to 7. Missouri held Ames, the terror of the Valley, to a scoreless tie. Therefore, Missouri will easily win from the Sooners.

That is the way Missouri would like to dope out the annual clash between the states, to take place on Boyd Field Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26. But they know better.

Missouri won over Oklahoma by what the Sooners believed was an unethical and unjust demand. Sooners have accepted that every two touchdowns, home and away, Missouri knows that Oklahoma will fight hard on Boyd Field Saturday afternoon.

The Tigers will come to Oklahoma next Saturday with one of their best teams in years. They have high hopes of an all-victorious eleven. Yet Sooner fans are daily gaining confidence that they will tie knot in the Tiger's tail, remove his hide and "hang it on the fence" in Saturday's game.

Bug Owen began the season with a great squad of raw recruits. It took a month to call out the ones who had no chance, then work on building a real machine had to be taken up without even a nucleus to build it around.

There wasn't any machine when Sooners played Kendall—except Kendall's and they had a good one. But Beanie picked his winners for the year.

He spent all of last week grooming the men he had decided upon, and those men, in ground actually gained and in the success of their passes, outplayed the Longhorns at Texas last Saturday. Texas won on the invitation of Sooners.

Oklahoma tumbled, and her players went had in pinches, all of which is a part of the game.

But the Soopers proved that they had the heart in them that has made Sooners famous across the continent. That's Beanie has picked can play football, they are capable of machine work. They have the fight.

Captain Montgomery, with his arm broken in the Kendall game, will never again don the male attire. Briscoe, the Oklahoma Indian veteran, is still more a legend. But McFarren and Ross Johnson have proved themselves very good at the wing positions. Tolbert, Hart and Tyree, former Oklahoma City star, are already playing to near full form at tackles. R. Montgomery of Harrellville and McGlothlin, once a star from Shawnee High, are satisfied they solutions for guards. Brewster, big, steady and dependable, has solved Beanie's pivot position problem.

In the backfield another sensational star has shown up in Graham Johnson, the third of the great Johnson brothers. He may play the season at quarterback, with his brother, Montford, switched to half. Briscoe and Von Tigen are both playing a good game at fullback, and McCain and McFarren are doing veteran work at halves. That is why Sooners expect to defeat Missouri.

Anyway, it will be such a fight as there has not been on Boyd Field in years. And there will be a thousand alumni and former students cheering the Crimson and Cream to victory.
